

AIG Insurance New Zealand Limited (AIG), the insurer under our Identity Guard insurance cover, terminated its master policy for that cover as of 22 January 2020. Despite all reasonable efforts, our insurance broker has been unable to source replacement cover for our NZ members.

However, consistent with its Policy Document and notwithstanding that termination, AIG will maintain cover for those NZ members who are insured persons whose individual period of insurance extends beyond 22 January 2020 (the date of termination). For those members, their insurance cover will cease on the date that their individual period of insurance expires. What this means is that there is a phase out of Identity Guard insurance cover, with that cover ending as from that member's next renewal date.

In all other respects, our Secure Sentinel services remain unchanged.

Our terms and conditions have been revised to reflect this change, and you can access those at <https://www.securesentinel.co.nz/terms-and-conditions> in NZ.
